

<sup>1</sup> presently, only single federation supported (federation1)

<sup>2</sup>An older version of pundit-agent used to process owamp files (produced by powstream for latencybg) directly instead of receiving somewhat processed test results from pscheduler via rabbitmq. Then the files were periodically processed. Infilescheduler module was kept so that minimal changes were introduced when pundit-agent transitioned away from using direct files. The functions also have legacy names for the same reason.